Hastings Equity Partners Announces Acquisition of American Well Service

BOSTON, Mass. (September 2014) - Extreme Plastics Plus, Inc. ("EPP"), a provider of comprehensive environmental containment solutions to the energy industry, is pleased to announce the acquisition of American Well Service ("AWS"). EPP is a portfolio company of Hastings Equity Partners, a private equity firm focused on investing in lower, middle-market energy services and equipment businesses.

Based in Washington, PA, AWS provides containment and closed loop solids control to exploration and production companies throughout the Marcellus and Utica Shales. The acquisition of AWS will enhance EPP's ability to offer market leading environmental containment solutions to its customers from its nine locations throughout the U.S.

"At EPP, we continue to execute our growth plans and the addition of AWS allows us to enhance both products and services we can offer to customers," said Bennie Wharry, CEO & Founder of Extreme Plastics Plus. "AWS is well positioned to expand geographically with EPP's operations in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. We are eager to work with founders and their team at AWS to continue to build on their success."

"After reaching nearly 100 employees and experiencing explosive growth across all service lines, we felt that we needed a partner to help us expand beyond our existing footprint," said Amy Savage, Co-Owner of American Well Service. "Picking Bennie Wharry and the whole EPP family as a partner was a simple decision since we had been working closely with them for the past four years. We are excited to combine forces with the talented people at EPP."

Financing for the transaction was provided by RBS Citizens N.A. while Edwards, Wildman, and Palmer LLP served as legal counsel to the shareholders of EPP in the transaction.
